

Unveiling The Fears And The Denials Behind “THE PASSION OF THE CHRIST”

By: Jeffrey Crosby

Sponsored By:

Clifton A. Emahiser's Teaching Ministries
1012 N. Vine Street, Fostoria, Ohio 44830
Phone (419)435-2836, Fax (419)435-7571
E-mail caemahiser@sbcglobal.net

Short Quotations May Be Taken From This Article, But Not To Edit

It has already been established here, in Part Three of this essay, that the Scythia of Diodorus Siculus extended west to the amber district of the Baltic, and perhaps even to the Elbe, as described by that historian. Likewise, Herodotus accounted the Danube and its tributaries from the north as “Scythian” rivers.

In the recent weeks that led up to the release of the movie produced and directed by Mel Gibson, “The Passion of the Christ”, there has been more exposure of the film's topic and its director, by both Jewish organizations and Christian ecumenical leaders than ever in world history. It has been said to open an issue that has never truly been confronted for the past 2,000 years, since the crucifixion of the one called Yashua ben Yoseph, Jesus the Christ.

Of the five hour interview that was with Gibson, done by Dianne Sawyer, one hour was aired for public review. It must be noted that every broadcasting service and cable network is either owned or operated by Jewish families or organizations, or at the least under said broadcaster's control and influence of what will or will not be aired. In fact, every press organization, every newspaper or magazine publication, all advertising, virtually all media, is controlled or restricted by the same Jewish organizations or families since the early 1900's. Other than this production. It has been totally funded by Gibson's pocketbook, without outside influence. So what is it that a group as powerful as the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai-Brith, who is comparable to the National Security Counsel of Judaism, be so concerned with regarding this issue of Jesus' crucifixion or resurrection? The Jews blatantly admit that they created and own Hollywood, so there should be no cause for alarm when someone outside of the 'loop' should portray what more than 80% of the western world accepts as historical facts regarding this Jesus, what was prophesied about Him and the world to come. Or should there be cause for alarm?

Gibson was asked the question whether Jesus Himself was a Jew. He correctly responded by pointing out the fact that Jesus was born of the House of [King] David, that He was an Israelite, of Judea, and that there existed the difference between Jesus' teachings from the Sacred Scriptures of the Old Testament versus the Rabbinical teachings of the Sanhedrin Pharisees and Sadducees, at that time known as the “Traditions of the Elders”, which is modern day Talmudic Judaism.

Very few people, even those who profess that they are Christian, could tell you the difference between who Israel is, as a descendant of one of the twelve tribes whom Yahweh chose from among His own children (i.e., the Adamic race) and that He would be their Father and God, through Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (who is Israel), compared to those called Jews. They could not explain who the Pharisees, Sadducees or Scribes were, or the roots of their religious beliefs which Jesus opposed, any more than they could explain through Sacred Scripture why the Jews are the “chosen ones” which many Christians freely claim because of traditional teachings. The greatest majority are just plain confused regarding history and prophesy. They remain unlearned, whether through false teachings or a laissez-faire acceptance of “Jesus saves”, often causing a tumultuous battle in their personal lives on a day to day basis, questioning their faith.

Jesus’ ministry on earth lasted three and one half years, as prophesied would occur, when He would be cut off in the middle of the week (prophetically). Everything about Him that was prophesied would come to pass, as far back as the Garden of Eden 4,000 years (Ussher) prior to His birth, recorded by the chosen prophets of Israel from Moses to Malachi. That He would be born of a virgin, of the House of David, the tribe of Judah, born in Bethlehem but called a Nazarene. Every miracle which He showed, from making the blind see and the lame walk, to raising the dead, was prophesied. He would not perform any miracles which were not prophesied, and He had nothing to prove to the Sanhedrin. The message that He brought was that He came only for the lost sheep of the House of Israel, that only His sheep heard His voice and would follow Him, and that He knew His sheep. He specifically noted that where He came from and went, the Pharisees and Sadducees could not go. They had eyes but could not see, and ears but could not hear Him, under any circumstances. He referred to them as the bad fig tree that could not produce any good fruit, ever. He claimed that His flock, although they would lose their lives would gain life eternal, and that nobody would enter the Kingdom of Heaven except by accepting Him as the Sacrificial Lamb, the Son of the Almighty Yahweh.

John the Baptist, who was also prophesied would come as the Herald to the Messiah, and who knew Jesus as the Christ all along, told the Pharisees and Sadducees that they were descendants of Satan, the generation of vipers. Nor was this a figurative speech or euphemism. He professed to King Herod, an Edomite Jew of the lineage of Esau, and Herodias, his brothers wife, and her daughter they had between them, that they were of wickedness, which caused John his head to be served on a platter.

Jesus told these members of the Sanhedrin, who from the start sought to kill Him, that they were from below and that He was from above, that He was the Messiah that all the prophets spoke of, and that they were the children of the Devil and their forefathers killed every prophet from righteous Abel to the present. These Jewish leaders would argue back that if they were alive at those foretimes, they would not have killed the prophets, bearing witness to their lineage. But they said their lineage also came through the patriarch Abraham, which Jesus did not deny. He just never pointed out that they did not come through Jacob/Israel, of the everlasting Covenant of salvation and redemption for Israel and those that followed Yahweh's Laws and Commands, but rather through Jacob's brother Esau, who is Edom of Canaanite wives, who gave up his inheritance with the Almighty God of Israel and whom Yahweh professed He hated. The prophets beforehand all foretold that eventually, in the End Times, that lineage would be destroyed to the last one. Esau, whose wives were a grief to his parents Isaac and Rebecca of Abrahamic blood, was a fornicator for bringing Satanic children into the world. Jesus told these Elders of the Sanhedrin that they could not escape the damnation of hell. The Israelite prophets from before time would relate that even a leopard could not change his spots, or that they, unlike the children of Israel who could be molded into the perfect pot from soft clay, would be a baked pot which would be dropped and shattered to unusable fragments of dust.

The message throughout the scriptures, both Old and New Covenants, is that of a blood-war between the children of the Almighty Yahweh and the children of Satan, which goes back to the beginning in the garden of Eden.

Gibson correctly stated that 75% (if not more) of those calling themselves Christian, of Catholicism or not, are confused in their beliefs. This is largely due to the fact that the Roman Papacy, three centuries after the Passion of Christ, established its hierarchy and laws from Judaistic or Eastern mysticism and adopted pagan beliefs and rituals. The Roman empire collapsed, but joined the Papacy with Justinian's laws to become the Holy Mother Church of the Empire, casting the world into the dark ages for 1,260 predicted years of rule under the Popes. This, too, was prophesied. The reformations were an attempt to return to the Sacred Scriptures and their contextual meanings. Thus, there was a scattering of doctrinal beliefs which brought changes, different denominations, a search for the truth. But throughout that time the Jews were a separate people without a home, cast out of every nation since the Romans laid siege to Jerusalem in 70 AD as prophesied, as wandering vagabonds because of their practices of usury against the nations across Europe. In the interim, some 60 to 100 million Christians lost their lives during the Crusades and the Inquisition period under the Mother Church.

Just what was Jesus saying when He told the Pharisees that they had killed righteous Abel? Are they in fact the lineage of Cain? Who were these political/religious leaders who placed a heavy yoke of Judaistic laws and doctrine which were not scriptural upon the people of Palestine? Why would they hunt down and kill anybody who followed the beliefs of Christ after His resurrection, imprisoning them, casting-them into the ocean in small boats without oars, never to return for fear of the Sanhedrin, the ones called Jews?

The Targumim of Jonathan, related to Rabbinical writings such as Midrash Tanhuma, Seder Olam Rabah, Mishnah Yebamoth, Mishnah Zebahim, Mishnah Hullin, Mishnah Parah, Mishnah Toharoth & Mishnah Yadain found in the Dead Sea Scrolls, record the story in Genesis of Satan, called Sammael, who seduced Eve and she conceived of wicked Cain, whereas Abel was a son of Almighty God through Adam. Other Jewish talmudic writings record this same event. Did the early churches under Roman Catholicism, and the reformation thereafter, lose sight of the physical and spiritual battle between Satan and Almighty God on earth, where Yahweh cursed the serpent by placing enmity between the seed of the serpent and the seed of the woman? This battle would not only be carried to the cross by the Messiah to come, but would be personified through the lineages of the sons of Israel against the anti-christs until the End Times, when all would finally be fulfilled. What was the reason for Yahweh to command the tribes of Israel to kill every man, woman and child of the Canaanites when they entered the Promised Land? Were they really to become the thorn in the side of God's children forever? Why was Phineas, the grandson of the High Priest Aaron, placed above all others for an everlasting priesthood because of his zealousness for Yahweh when 24,000 Israelites were killed in one night ("heads" plus "every one his men")? Was it under the Roman Church, or the reformed churches after, or the false establishment of Zionism thereafter which flipped things around so that Satan's children would be considered the chosen ones of God's inheritance? Yet a few of Israel did not listen then, cohabiting with the Canaanites and spawning children of the wicked, destroying the Levitical priesthood of the Sacred Temple and creating what Jesus called the Synagogue of Satan. It was only that pure remnant of the twelve tribes of Israel which Yahweh would disperse, banish from Palestine forever, to preserve His seed which would later come to be known as the Christian nations. It was those that returned to Jerusalem, who being mixed with Canaanite stock, would found their new religion of Judaism which Jesus would later be born amidst (not being one of them). Was He correct to claim that He only came for the lost flock of the House of Israel, or that only His sheep heard Him? All prophesied and fulfilled.

Even the Jewish sages of antiquity, such as Rashi (1040-1105 CE) and Nachmanides (1194-1270 CE) record the facts that the tribes of Israel, called "Nations" or "Gentiles" in the Holy Bible, are actually those people who were taken into captivity by the Assyrians some 700 years before Jesus was born and who were later scattered into the Russian Steppes, across Europe into the Germanic nations, the Scandinavian north, Spain and France, west into the British Isles, and later across the western seas to the Americas and the ends of the earth, confirmed by every major prophet beforehand. Present Jewish writers, such as Harry Golden, affirm the history of the tribe of Dan who settled in Scandinavia and Ireland, of Judah who are of the Germanics and Brits (where Queen Elizabeth II is of the House of David), or the Reubenites of France. Yair Davidi of Jerusalem writes in his books of Ephraim being those of the Brits and Scots, and Manasseh being the major settlers of the Americas. These are the peoples who established their Laws and Constitutions on the principles of the Sacred Scriptures, unlike anywhere else on earth. Yet throughout all interviews with Gibson, or publications regarding his upcoming production, the Jews refer to Jesus as a prophet, or teacher of His beliefs, but anything other than the prophesied Christ. They cannot accept Him as Christ under any circumstances, even today. The greatest historians, such as Herodotus, record these migrated tribes after their dispersion as the Scythians, Cimmerians and Goths, then the Sakae, then Saxons, or "Sons of Isaac" and Angles. The odds of the prophetic scriptures to come to pass are more than the stars of the universe squared, yet history proves their trueness.

In their 1924 edition of the Encyclopedia Judaica, the Jews of today admit that, on the largest part, they are descendants of Edom of Mount Seir, since the Romans laid siege to Jerusalem in 70 AD. Edom's lineage was Canaanite blood through Noah's son Ham, not Shem, where they derived the name "Semitic" from. They correctly claim that the majority of Jews across Europe, the United States and Israel are Khazarians of Russia, a hybrid Hun/Mongolian/Turk people who adopted Judaism as their national religion in 800 CE for political purposes, and thence spread out. They are the creators of Zionism which brought about reestablishing the territory of Palestine into Israel in 1948. They call themselves Ashkenazic Jews from Ashkenaz, a grandson of Noah's through Japheth, who settled in northeastern Russia. But they do not have any lineage connection to Shem, or "Semitic", where the lineage of Jacob/Israel came from during their 15th century BC exodus from Egypt.

They took their title "Jews" from Judah, although they are not of any tribe of Israel. They created their religion from Babylonian mysticism, holding their oral laws of the Talmud, their "traditions", above the Torah. They claimed the position of "the chosen ones", when they admit that the lost flock of the western world are to fulfill the prophecies of God's children. They created the name "anti-Semitic" when in fact they know they are not of Shem, and have created their territory of "Israel" (Israel - lie), which has been at war since and which is called the "abomination of desolation" by the Almighty God of Israel in the Sacred Scriptures. They denied Jesus as the Christ when they crucified Him and they deny Him now, claiming that they are not responsible. Yet the entire message of the Holy Bible, every prophet, every disciple, every apostle, Jesus Himself, warned the world of the many anti-christs that we are to recognize and that are amongst us, whom we are to separate ourselves from in every manner of life so as to reign in the Kingdom of God on earth. Of course the anti-christs killed every one of these messengers.

The Rabbinical teachings of the Talmud cite four deaths that they inflicted upon Jesus, that He was a bastard son of a whore, born during menstruation, who is in hell boiling in a vat of semen. The Rabbis write of how they urinate on Jesus, and any followers of this Jesus who is not a Jew, the "Cutheans", must be killed. These writings go back thousands of years. Ben Hecht, in his book A Jew In Love With His Race states: "Leave it to the mob to bungle. Would that I had had charge of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, I would have fed His body to the lions, and they would never have resurrected a savior out of hamburger."

Gibson edited from the film the Biblically recorded cries of the Jews shouting "[Jesus'] blood be on us and on our children" prior to Jesus' crucifixion. But Gibson, led by the Holy Spirit sent as promised by the Messiah Jesus, has truly answered to His Savior from above. Raised in Catholicism, Gibson has been called out of that church body and entered into the Body of Christ. The Pope, who is called the Holy Father of the Mother Church within Catholicism, has denied his blessing upon Gibson's production, as have some of the Protestant pastors, claiming this to be Gibson's opinion of the scriptures. They have denied the Holy Spirit, blaspheming what the Almighty God of the promise has ordained. As prophesied, the lowest has been edified above those in high places.

All should view the film to understand the true message of this one they call Jesus. The Sacred Scriptures say "That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life" (John 3:15) in the eternal Heavenly Kingdom in the end. One of Jesus' parables given, where the wheat are the children of God in the world and the tares are the children of Satan who would be removed from the earth in the end, by Him alone, should be heeded that in God is Justice, and anything else is not of God. Pray, for the just reward for this enemy of Yahweh is at hand. This is their true fear, that they are now fully exposed for who they are. But we who know the truth also realize that we are entered into the Kingdom of God through Christ Jesus, Amen.

Jeffrey Crosby